Snotlout's Revenge

A/N Hello my toasty people with Rainbow here with a one shot from a friend. A friend and I bet him that he couldn't make a good story well here it is review if you like it to prove me wrong.

Great Mountain's peak on the back of Toothless.

"See that mountain, Toothless?" Hiccup asked Toothless.

Toothless made odd dragon noises that signified that he was trying to say "Yes!"

"Then, well, go to its peak!" exclaimed Hiccup in utter excitement.

"When we get there, we'll be able to see the most beautiful view!"

Toothless, when he heard that, raced to the peak of the mountain as fast as he could possibly go!

Toothless landed gracefully on the peak of the mountain, filled with joy

Toothless and Hiccup sat there, staring eternally into the view of the ocean's beauty.

-Snotlout's POV-

"Here's the plan, Hookfang." said Snotlout. "When Hiccup reaches the peak of that mountain he's been talking about for a while, I'll ride you to the top, but being completely hidden from their sight. But because of Toothless' sense of smell, you're going to breathe fire so he'll smell the fire, rather than me and you. Once we're at the top, we go all in and push them off the edge. That'll get rid of my cousin once and for all." said Snotlout deviously. Hookfang then made a nodding gesture to Snotlout, confirming that he was ready to commence the plan.

-Hiccup's POV-

"Ah. Sure is a nice view. Well, I suppose we should get goi... D-do you smell fire, Toothless?" said Hiccup nervous and suspiciously. Toothless uttered odd noises and made a nodding gesture. "I-I suppose we'll hang out here a little longer..." said Hiccup in fear of checking out the problem.

Toothless tilted his head as if he heard something. "What is it, boy?" said Hiccup. Toothless shrugged and started to lay down again. Hiccup, this time, heard someone similar to his cousin screaming a battle cry. He heard the voice getting closer.

"Toothless, put your guard up! Someone could be here!" said Hiccup. Toothless grunted and was ready to fight.

"Yahhhhhhh!" screamed Snotlout as he rode on the back of his dragon, charging towards Hiccup at full speed.

"Look over there, Toothless! Snotlout's trying to kill us!" screamed Hiccup. "Let's not bother fighting him, let's just fly away!" Hiccup was attempting to jump onto the back of Toothless, but it was too late. Hookfang was going top speed toward them. After a couple of seconds, Hiccup was being slung off the top of the mountain!

"If I'm going down... you're coming down with me!" shouted Hiccup, as he tugged Snotlout off the back of Hookfang.

"No! Stop!" said Snotlout in utter fear.

"Y-You brought this upon yourself... Snotlout..."

As Hiccup and Snotlout were falling, Hookfang and Toothless were fighting. Hookfang would spew large amounts of fire, Toothless would show his teeth, and it was an all-out war. Toothless was burned on his back feet by Hookfang's fire. Toothless yelped in pain, but he wasn't going to give up that easily! With all of Toothless' might, he bit Hookfang as hard as he could on the neck. Hookfang was killed, and Toothless had won that fight.

However, Toothless and Snotlout had hit the ground. They had both died with all their bones shattered.

In fear, Toothless rushed to the ground to see if he was all right. When Toothless reached the ground and saw what had happened to them... he began shed tears. From that day on, Toothless lived in eternal depression, along with Hiccup's friends and family.
